Job description

Bank of America is seeking a technology and information security attorney to support its Global Technology and Operations (GTO) division, with an emphasis on the Global Information Security Group (GIS).

Key Responsibilities:

- Serve as a trusted legal advisor to GTO and GIS by providing legal support and practical business, legal and technical solutions for all aspects of technology, operations and information security.
- Provide legal advice on a wide range of technology and information security issues in established and emerging technologies, including proposed legislation, laws, regulations and practices related to technology and cyber security.

- Advise on and negotiate and manage information security issues in contracts with vendors, clients and other third parties, including determining compliance with contractual obligations and helping develop strategies to resolve issues and disputes.

Enterprise Description:

Provides general legal counsel on the Bank's Technology & Operations or Intellectual Property activities, as well as specific advice on products, services and certain legal actions. Reviews legal contracts and documents. Directly, or through staff, conducts legal research. May represent the bank in legal actions. Individuals in this position typically have a minimum of six years of experience since admission to the Bar.

Qualifications

- Required skills:
- A Juris Doctorate degree with active bar membership.
 - Minimum of 7-10 years relevant experience at a major law firm and/or corporate legal department.
 - Deep knowledge of technology and information security law.
 - Ability to field issues across a diverse set of legal fields.
 - Strong interpersonal, organizational and problem-solving skills.
 - Ability to present complex issues in a clear and concise manner and provide succinct results-oriented legal advice.
 - Ability to work in a fast-paced, demanding and collaborative environment with many stakeholders.
 - Independent, self-starter capable of prioritizing conflicting demands and handling multiple assignments simultaneously.
 - Strong influencing and leadership skills, including decisiveness on both legal and business issues.

Desired skills:

- Experience in global financial services and with financial regulators is a plus.
