

Head of Global Regulatory Legal Support and Litigation, Elanco Animal Health

- Looking for senior regulatory lawyer (approx. 8+ years) with significant FDA experience and knowledge of regulatory process: approval pathways, FDA audits, enforcement actions, recalls, etc. Some familiarity with animal pharmaceuticals regulation is an advantage but not required.
- Role will manage not only global regulatory legal support but also litigation and government affairs legal support.
- Role is global, as Elanco has substantial operations in Europe, Asia, and South America. 50% of revenues are ex-US.
- Role reports to the General Counsel and sits on the Legal Department Leadership Team. Role features significant exposure to executive management within the company.
- Elanco headquarters is in Greenfield, IN, just outside Indianapolis. However, company is willing to consider placement of the role in Washington, DC, rather than Indianapolis.
- Role will manage two or more attorneys and several paralegals.
- Interested parties should send an email to Becky Shields at shieldsra@elanco.com.
