

Position: Associate General Counsel, Head of Securities and Transactions & Assistant Corporate Secretary – Elanco Animal Health

- Seeking candidates with at least 10 years of legal experience with an emphasis on representing public companies in securities and disclosure matters, corporate governance, and corporate finance with a deep knowledge of federal securities laws, governance and corporate secretarial matters.
- A combination of in-house experience at a public company and in private practice is preferred. Exceptional law firm candidates will be considered. Experience as a Corporate Secretary or Assistant Corporate Secretary is strongly preferred. Experience working in the healthcare industry, particularly in pharmaceuticals, is a clear advantage.
- Some background handling corporate transactions, including M&A, is preferred.
- This lawyer will also be the day-to-day legal lead for securities and financial disclosures for the company and be responsible for various practices and policies related to public company securities compliance, and will establish the securities function for the company.
- Role reports to the General Counsel and sits on the Legal Department Leadership Team. Role features significant exposure to executive management within the company
- Elanco headquarters is in Greenfield, IN, just outside Indianapolis.
- Role will manage three or more attorneys, plus others.
- Interested parties should send an email to Heather Fine at hfine@mlaglobal.com