

Neonu Jewell

Project Consultant, VallotKarp

Neonu Jewell brings over 20 years of legal and corporate experience to her current focus on organizational dynamics.

She launched her legal career as corporate and international regulatory compliance attorney initially, as an associate in the law firm of Thomson Hine, and then as international trade counsel at Accenture. Jewell began her corporate career working in finance and tax at international companies such as Marriott International and General Physics. Thereafter, she served as both president and general counsel of Excel Management Systems, Inc., an IT Service provider.

Before joining VallotKarp, Jewell worked as a corporate recruiter at Major, Lindsey & Africa, conducting searches for senior-level, in-house counsel. She specialized in identifying diverse legal talent and regularly presented on the topic of diversity in the legal profession.

Jewell holds a J.D. from Georgetown University Law School as well as both an M.B.A. and a B.S. in business administration from Florida A&M University (FAMU). She continues to conduct leadership and personal empowerment workshops helping participants achieve outstanding results in all aspects of their lives.
