

Josh Kamin

Managing Partner, Atlanta Office, King & Spalding LLP

Josh Kamin is the Atlanta Office Managing Partner of King & Spalding LLP and a nationally-recognized real estate industry lawyer. He specializes in equity transactions including joint ventures, recapitalizations, acquisitions, dispositions, and borrower-side financings, for domestic and non-U.S. clients.

He is a sought-after trusted advisor known for spearheading market-leading transactions, designing efficient platforms and programmatic relationships, and providing essential insight for C-suite leadership. Kamin delivers advice in a clear, practical, and business-friendly manner. Clients seek out Kamin for his creativity, and consider him a “go-to” lawyer for their most important transactions and initiatives. In addition, Kamin is experienced in portfolio transactions, company recapitalizations, infrastructure projects, and healthcare real estate.

Kamin’s clients include private equity, financial institutions, public and public/private entities, sponsors, investors, and developers. Kamin played lead roles in some of the most important real estate industry transactions over the last decade, both on a national scale (such as the sale of GE Capital Real Estate’s real estate equity and investment platform) and within the Southeastern United States (such as the acquisition and redevelopment of Turner Field in Atlanta, Georgia).

Kamin is a fellow of the American College of Real Estate Lawyers (ACREL) and serves as the Vice Chair of the Acquisitions Committee. Kamin is the former chair of the ACREL Equity Investment Structures Committee. Kamin is recognized by Chambers USA as a Band 1 lawyer, and by The Best Lawyers in America, which identified him as the 2012 Best Real Estate Lawyer in Atlanta. He has been named a Legal Elite by Georgia Trend magazine and a Super Lawyer by Atlanta Magazine.

Kamin earned his J.D. from the University of Pennsylvania and a B.A. from Emory University. He is admitted to practice in Georgia.
