12:45 - 1:00PM Welcome

Melissa Lauderdale, Vice President & Deputy General Counsel & Chief of Staff, Exelon Corporation

1:00 - 2:00PM Building Relationships that Lead to Business: Then, Now, Tomorrow

Sandra S. Yamate, Chief Executive Officer, Institute for Inclusion in the Legal Profession (IILP)

Among the most common measures of the legal profession's diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI) success is the diversity within the ranks of law firm equity partners and corporate General Counsels. By those measures, there has been some progress, but not nearly robust enough, fast enough, or steady enough. Why? Effective business development (or the lack thereof) affects the career progression of law firm lawyers, and that turns on relationship-building. Sandra Yamate will share new research findings from IILP and discuss the need for diverse attorneys to be thoughtful and creative as they build relationships that will lead to business.
